MOSCOW, Oct. 15.—An admission that fighting is raging at the approaches to Kalinin, 110 miles northwest of Moscow, and that the enemy is battering his way forward, was published by the Red army newspaper Red Star today.

Red Star said the Germans are using masses of tanks and armored cars but that Soviet defenders are firmly holding the Nazis at a number of sub-sectors.

At other points, it was admitted, the German forces penetrated Russian defenses.

Parachute troops dropped behind the Russian lines were said to have been "wiped out."

Japan's Attitude Toward U.S. May Be "Softening" Somewhat Is Indication

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
TOKYO, Oct. 15.—Two possible indications that Japan's attitude toward the United States may be "softening" somewhat were seen in Tokyo today.

One was announcement that the Japanese liner Tatuta Maru sailed from Yokohama today, bound for San Francisco with 610 passengers including five Americans.

Departure of the ship ends the current interruption in Japanese American communications.

Mabuchi Dismissed

The second indication of a less belligerent Japanese attitude was an announcement that Col. Hayao Mabuchi, Japanese army press chief who has frequently jibed at the United States, has been relieved of his post.

Mabuchi was dismissed after an all-night conference between Gen. Teichi Suzuki, president of the planning board, and Premier Prince (Continued On Page Two)

Training Plane Falls In Heavy Rainstorm—Pilot And Doctor Killed

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 15.—Air corps officers today examined the shattered remains of a fast training plane that crashed in a heavy rainstorm seven miles east of Greensburg last night, killing two men—an army pilot, and an army doctor.

Victims of the accident were identified as First Lieutenant Marshall E. Stewart, 38, and Dr. Jack Schlager, both of whom had been stationed at Kelly Field, Texas. Stewart's home was in Phoenix, Ariz., while the doctor had been affiliated with the Veterans hospital at Dayton, O.

They were en route to Pittsburgh from Philadelphia in an authorized flight, and had been reporting at regular intervals. Witnesses said the plane's motor started sputtering and in a few minutes, the ship plummeted to earth on the Harry Stroks farm.

Both men were dead when members of the Youngwood fire department had reached the scene of the crash-up in a heavily-wooded section. The plane was completely demolished, with part of one wing some 50 yards away from the rest of the debris.

Nazi Long-Range Guns Being Moved Toward Moscow

Germans Report Constant Artillery Bombardment Of Outer Defenses Of City

BERLIN REPORTS

MOSCOW AIR RAIDS

Bulk Of Nazi Armies To Take Part In Siege Plans For Soviet Capital

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—With Red square their ultimate objective, German long-range guns were moved slowly forward along the road to Moscow today and a constant stream of eight-inch shells were hurled into the Soviet capital's outer defenses.

While Nazi armies gradually encircled Moscow from north, south and west, the German high command mapped a strategy whereby the city apparently will be pummeled into helplessness by artillery and the Luftwaffe before the final frontal push is begun.

The German air force raided Moscow last night, starting many huge fires, an official announcement said. These raids presumably will continue simultaneously with the artillery bombardment, but although there may be occasional panzer thrusts, the bulk of the German armies west of Moscow will wait until Russia's armies and defenses have been destroyed before seizing the city.

Ship Arming Hearings Near End

Committee To Make Report

Proposal May Reach House For Debate By Thursday

SEEK TO SPEED PASSAGE OF BILL

(BULLETIN)
By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The House foreign affairs committee today ordered a favorable report on President Roosevelt's bill authorizing arming of merchant ships to protect them against submarine or air attack.

Members said that the bill was reported out by a voice vote.

Administration leaders were confident that the measure can be pushed through the House by Friday night with a topheavy vote. The Senate foreign relations committee is scheduled to begin consideration next Monday.

Oppose Step
Longer hearings and debate in the Senate will be fought by the non-interventionists. Eleven members of the Senate non-interventionist bloc met with Senator Hiram Johnson (R., Cal.) to organize for the fight. They announced they would oppose the measure because "it is the first step toward complete repeal of the neutrality act."

Representative Boland, Pa., Democratic whip, said that he was so sure that the measure will back Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull on the issue that he is not going to the trouble to make a poll of Democratic members.

The measure, which repeals a section of the neutrality act prohibiting arming of ships and then affirmatively gives the President authority to arm them, is expected to precipitate spirited and bitter debate.

"The hearings have fully demonstrated the necessity of arming ships to preserve our rights on the seas," said Bloom, while Representative Shanley (D., Conn.), assailed the measure as "a definite step toward war."

"The bill is a blanket endorsement of all the President has done, and is so intended," Stanley said. "It is another step toward war. I oppose it."

announcement that United States Ambassador Alurence A. Steinhardt would remain in Moscow.

"We are looking forward to making his acquaintance," he said. "We are well experienced with such cases."

EDITOR'S NOTE: This apparently was a reference to William C. Bullitt, United States ambassador to Paris, and John T. Cudahy, ambassador in Brussels, both of whom remained at their posts during the German invasion.

The range of German long-range guns operating from the direction of Silesia has been lifted, it was said, and heavy cannonading is now spreading over a greater radius of the northwestern horizon. The steadily falling shells are adding to the demoralization of what remains of the Red army, the spokesman said.

Vast Troop Movement

Vast numbers of mechanized German troops are now moving almost unimpeded over broad highways, the spokesman declared, with tanks and armored cars frequently moving three and four abreast. The Soviets were said to be retreating too rapidly to blow up bridges or mine the roads, greatly facilitating the Nazi advance.

There is no indication anywhere, the spokesman added, that the Russians still attempting to defend Moscow will be able to face the oncoming Germans with anything approaching serious counter-blows. The long scale strategic Nazi plan will be adhered to, it was said, regardless of developments.

Military officials said that a total of four Red armies have now been wiped out in the Vyazma sector.

Witnesses before the committee yesterday included Secretary of War Stimson, Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson.

After testifying in secret, Stimson said that Russia has not been included in distribution of supplies called for in the measure while Patterson said the Soviet had been paying cash for all purchases.

Adams added "we don't know what Russia's resources are. He said there has been considerable discussion of Russia's financial condition in the committee."

Old Covered Bridges Nearly Extinct, Six Left

Years ago, shortly after the Pennsylvania legislature passed an act that when a bridge was burned it was to be rebuilt at the state's expense, the covered wooden bridge at Pulaski unfortunately burned, but was then replaced with a modern steel structure by the commonwealth.

The big flood of 1913 washed out the famous old Black bridge, which for many years had spanned the confluence of the Neshannock and Shenango rivers, and which had until then carried the burden of traffic between here and Beaver.

Last of the old covered wooden bridges to be razed, and one which engineers said had weathered the ravages of time and traffic remarkably well, was the one at Edenburg.

to be replaced as planned by the viaduct over the Mahoning river.

Once there were many of these picturesque wooden structures spanning the rivers and streams of Lawrence county. Now we know of only six covered bridges still doing duty in the county.

There is one at Kennedy's Mill, one at McConnell's Mill, another over Breakneck creek, one at Wilmington Junction, one on the road to Fayette and one east of Neshannock Falls.

What we wonder is whether some civic organization will undertake to see that at least one of these landmarks of our county's history be preserved? And will take the necessary steps to earmark one for preservation before the remaining six fall before fire, flood or the right of eminent domain?

thorities said, were rocking the approaches to Moscow from emplacements only 60 miles from the Kremlin's turrets, while Chancellor Hitler's legions massed for a frontal assault.

The London News Chronicle quoted the Red army newspaper Red Star as stating the climax of the battle has been reached and that it is unlikely more German reserves can be thrown into the attack.

Digging Defense Lines
(Nevertheless, said the News Chronicle, thousands of Muscovites are digging defense lines in the approaches to the city and throwing up solid earthworks in the belief these can hold back the Germans.)

(The same paper quoted the Russian Tass news agency as saying that on the Odessa front far to the south, Russian planes, tanks and artillery smashed another Rumanian onslaught and that the enemy retreated, leaving hundreds of dead on the battlefield.)

(The London Daily Express said it was estimated the Germans have lost 175,000 killed and 475,000 wounded, 3,000 tanks, 2,500 field guns and 1,500 planes in the first 12 days of the battle for Moscow. The News Chronicle reported in a Stockholm dispatch that two Polish divisions totalling 30,000 men are ready in Russia for action against the Germans.)

The German advance to Kalinin was regarded as a grave new threat. Authorities said the fighting around Kalinin, which is situated on the Moscow-Leningrad railway, may indicate a German attempt to pass by Moscow from that direction and encircle the capital from the rear.

(Likewise, British authorities said the British government had received no detailed information regarding a reported Japanese proposal to the United States for a standstill agreement on armaments for Singapore, the Philippines, the Dutch East Indies and Australia.)

The Tatuta Maru will be the first of three Japanese liners to sail to American ports under a new agreement ending the ban on Japanese ship sailings to American ports. Previous scheduled sailings were cancelled because of the crisis in the Pacific.

Meanwhile, the prediction by Senator Norris of Nebraska of war between the United States and Japan if Russia is defeated by Germany brought a sharp reply from the newspaper Yomiuri.

The paper said the action of the United States in sending a military mission to China amid the current Japanese-American negotiations places responsibility for whatever may happen "squarely on the United States."

accomplished by eliminating either the 15th or the 23rd congressional districts.

He said that the Republicans are demanding that one congressional district be abolished in Philadelphia county and the remaining districts re-shuffled.

The 15th district is composed of Pike, Wayne, Susquehanna, Bradford, Sullivan, Wyoming, Columbia and Montour counties while the 23rd district is composed of Blair, Centre and Clearfield counties.

"However," declared Taylor, "the Republicans are willing to consider any plan that gives both parties fair and equitable representation."

He said that he had advised the committeemen "that the only fair thing to do was to eliminate a congressman in Philadelphia and then both parties would take a chance on the election of the others."

The costs shown include EVERYTHING except the charges made by the cemetery.

35 Funerals cost $150 or less
43 were from $151 to $300
61 were from $301 to $400
51 were from $401 to $500
30 were from $501 to $600
17 were from $601 to $750
13 cost more than $750

Many appropriate remembrances in addition to the bouquets, special deliveries and telegrams of those unable to attend were also received by the couple, making the day most complete.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PROBLEMS IN FIRST YEAR AT COLLEGE

A great many students fail at college, or are very unhappy there, because of earlier home experiences and relationships. The student who did not learn at home to make choices for himself or herself about clothes, friends, money and the like may meet with all sorts of difficulties at college.

Suppose, as often happens, the mother had purchased or selected all the student's clothes, kept them mended, pressed and cleaned. Suppose she had given the youth entering college but little opportunity at home to choose friends. Suppose he never had had an allowance. See what a load of responsibility has suddenly fallen on this youth away from home.

This new responsibility may be interpreted by the youth merely as freedom if she or he felt hampered in choice of friends and clothes and in the use of money, his new choices and expenditures may prove very unwise. On the other hand, they might have been excellent if opportunities for choices had been afforded this youth earlier with some suggestions and skillful guidance.

Early Guidance Important
The student with little or no home experience in the care of his own clothes may, at college, use them extravagantly or without due regard to cleanliness and tidiness. Limited in opportunities to choose friends while at home, he may face social hazards or distribute his time unwisely between study and social recreation.

Unless the college youth has learned the value of money, he may not only spend extravagantly but frequently write home to beg for more money under false pretexts. When a student operates on a carefully planned budget he doesn't have much temptation to deceive his parents about money.

Emotional Problems
Some students are hampered at college with emotional problems thrust upon them by letters from home or reports during vacation. College deans tell of students who were unhappy at college, who failed in their studies, because of conflicts between the parents.

An occasional student tied too close to the home will suffer from homesickness, even giving up college on account of this. So closely tied, other boys and girls can be seriously handicapped by emotional letters from a mother who says she can hardly "live without her son or daughter."

Let mothers of young children begin now to educate them in responsibility, self-reliance and emotional independence so they will be used to a certain independence when they go away to college or to work.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. A boy entering high school writes to know if it would be wiser to take a full high school course, before choosing a vocational course, or to skip the last two years in high school and enter a trade school?

A. As a rule, it is better for the lad who learns regular subjects well to finish the regular high school course first. But there are many exceptions. You should talk the matter over with the high school principal or vocational adviser. I am sending you in the self-addressed stamped envelope you enclosed, a selected list of books on choosing a vocation and preparing for it.

Says South America Should Be Placated
Education Urged To Learn Latin's Ways
Northern Abruptness Causes Irritation

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Centennial Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13.—Morning newspapers of a few Sundays also published an evidently syndicated, excellently written, handsomely illustrated, full-page article, obviously prepared under auspices of Nelson Rockefeller's organization of solidification of our New World republic's around friendships, dealing with the transformed South America now in process of creation by the war elsewhere.

This is the right kind of publicity, and we Yankees need it more than our Latin neighbors need it concerning us. They already are a vast deal better informed as to the United States than we are as to them.

It's true that a good many of our neighbors dislike us somewhat out of proportion to our just deserts. We have mannerisms that grate on their sensibilities, and it's up to us to convince 'em that we're doing our best to overcome such brusquenesses in our style. That's a form of missionary work to be conducted through THEIR press.

The fact remains, however, that they do have some sort of a concept of US, and we haven't a bit of it as to THEM. Our job's to placate 'em. To do it we've got to educate OURSELVES, and articles like the one I've referred to in our Yankee papers are highly educational.

One thing we ought to learn is that a Latin is suave and he expects it from others. Our northern abruptness makes him sore.

Another thing we should discover is that a Latin's word is better than his bond. If he gives an oral promise, he considers himself bound in honor to strain quite a few points to keep it. If he's required to sign on a dotted line, he feels himself entitled to stand pat for exactly what's specified in the contract, even if it can be twisted to his own advantage.

Compulsory Voting
Several of the southern republics have voting systems that the average visiting Yankee doesn't comprehend, if he happens to be in one of them on an election day. Voting is compulsory, under penalty for failure to comply. "If a citizen's so indifferent as not to exercise his franchise right voluntarily, why compel 'em to do it?" queries the puzzled Yankee. That isn't the idea at all. In olden days it was customary for employers to tell their workers how to vote, firing 'em if they didn't do it as per orders. To stop this, secret balloting was legislated. It did prevent employers from making certain that their instructions were complied with. If a boss was suspicious of some worker, though, he still could forbid him to cast any ballot whatever. It was to end that, too, that compulsion was adopted. The motive was thoroughly democratic.

A lot of these peculiar-looking wrinkles are worth Yankee investigation.

The article I've mentioned devotes much attention to South America's progressing industrialization.

The continent's enormously rich in raw materials, but it hasn't processed 'em, with the exception of meat, to any extent hitherto. It's exported 'em, still raw, and subse-

MODERN JEREMIAHS

Jeremiah was the Hebrew prophet who was always down on his luck. He was not only down on his luck, but he was also down on the luck of the Jews. To him it seemed that the Lord had turned his face from his people; that he was turning over to their enemies, the Assyrians and Egyptians, and they were on their way to utter destruction. The Lamentations of Jeremiah are very doleful—to him all good things had come to an end.

There are many Jeremiahs abroad in the land today. To them, the present war will absolutely ruin the world. To them, this war will accomplish the absolute ruin of civilization.

To the Hebrew Jeremiah, all things worthwhile were Jewish and all Jewish things were being destroyed, and the world was to be come utterly ruined, unless the good Lord did something about it.

The Jewish people, as recorded in the Old Testament of the Bible, occupied a comparatively small portion of the earth's surface. It is probably true that Solomon did hold dominion over a considerable portion of Eastern Asia and Egypt. He is said to have been even richer than Midas. Civilization under Solomon doubtless attained a very high place. The arts and sciences were developed to a very remarkable degree. The Temple built by himself, with the assistance of Hiram, was a magnificent accomplishment.

Yet civilization is much further advanced today than then, and the wealth of the world is infinitely greater. It is not to make light of the tragedy that Hitler has inflicted upon the world. It is a simple statement of fact. As one writer has said:

"Unless there is some literally cosmic upset a billion or more light-years hence, there will always be a future for mankind on this earth; and in that future there will be a place for brains and imagination, creators and producers. We could do with more of the work-a-day fellows of balanced mind who concentrate both on today's job and prudent planning for tomorrow's problems and opportunities."

The story which comes from Michigan is very encouraging. The story tells how the General Motors executives and engineers are intently switching from a peace-time to a war-time basis, but simultaneously going ahead with research and planning for the post-war period.

They take it for granted that the technological and operating lessons learned in war production can be translated into post-war progress of benefit to their company, its customers and to the citizens of the nation.

FREE MAN'S DREAMS
These are the hopes of every man. Which make the substance of his dreams: Freedom and peace for all his clan And open fields and woods and streams.

No man so rich and none so great And none so poor and none so mean Who'd wish his children harder fate Than that which on himself has been.

It matters not his worth or place Who once full liberty has known The risk of death will gladly face To save and pass it to his own.

These things all free born men desire: The right to church and school and play. And none can marshal cannon fire Enough to blow their dreams away.

BIRTHDAYS OF FAMOUS AMERICANS
(Compiled by Encyclopaedia Britannica)

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler and the members of the faculty of Columbia University bade official farewell a few days ago to Joe Mazzeo.

After thirty years of helping to keep the campus grounds clean, the 78-year-old gentleman with the big handle-bar mustache retired "to take in the sights."

The next day many Broadway celebrities paid tribute to Robert M. Ryland, who had worked his way up from shoe-shine boy to superintendent of the Rivoli Building. A large cortege of "big names" followed his body to the cemetery.

Too few people are honored for "what" they are—too many for "who" they are.

G. R. ADVISERS MEET

Tuesday evening, the monthly meeting of Girl Reserve advisers was held with supper being served in the main dining room at 5:15 o'clock. The group adjourned to the club room on the third floor for the business session, opened with devotions led by Jane Young and Frances Booser.

Mention was made of the participation of all club in "Come and See Night" held last Thursday at the "Y" and of the Girl Reserves who made cotton balls for the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Association. Girl Reserves are always anxious to help in any civic project of this kind as it helps in carrying out one of the Girl Reserve emphases which is carrying their share of social responsibility.

All clubs were asked to send two representatives to the planning committee meeting for the All-Association dinner, the meeting to be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

The stock of Girl Reserve supplies was gone over and several good suggestions for the club crafts received. Some time was spent discussing club budgets and on the learning that each club member should receive in her individual life some help in discussing the budget. The advisers requested that the local "Y" continue to publish the monthly magazine as a program tool used in planning club programs.

Miss Eleanor Horner volunteered to be secretary for the advisers' meetings for this season and at the next meeting Miss Miriam Clinefel will report on the first chapter of the book "Understanding the Adolescent," written by Grace Loucks Elliott, national president of the Y. quently they've come back, industrialized. Now the wars shut off this source of factory-handled supplies from Europe and greatly limited 'em from the United States. The last war did it also, but the Latins squirmed through the best they could. This time they're developing their own plants locally, to work over their own minerals and hides and fibers and grains into edible and wearable and structural forms for their own utility.

Of course, this can't be done in a hurry, due to a lack of skilled industrial technicians. They'll have to be trained, and experts from the

Self-Sufficient Hemisphere

It's a nice thing for the Yankee technicians. Later on, when the war's over, Yankee manufacturers may let out a howl, upon discovery that the Latins no longer are dependent on 'em, being able to process their own stuff in their own plants. Nevertheless, it'll make this hemisphere as self-sufficient as it never has been before.

Besides, if locally industrialized the Latins will need a lot of our Yankee skilled labor, for they're underpopulated. That may take up a deal of our possible post-emergency unemployment slack.

It likewise, by mixing us up, will get us mutually much better acquainted — which is essential, to make us harmonize.

Vandalism Will Not Be Tolerated Here As Pre-Hallowe'en Pranks

Chief of police Willis G. McMullen today declared that vandalism in the city will not be accepted as pre-Hallowe'en pranks and that anyone caught interfering with, or damaging the property of another, will be taken forward to an immediate visit to police headquarters.

"The time for curbing acts of a damaging nature is now. It makes no difference to either the police or myself who the violators may be. They will be ordered to police headquarters," the chief declared.

"No one will take offense at pure Hallowe'ening, at the right time, but Hallowe'en is not yet here." He said so far there has been few complaints received.

"Snooping or chalking of auto windshields or windows will not be tolerated. A sure fine will await such a vandal."

"Property, such as chairs and flower-pots are not to be stolen or broken. Such actions will bring punishment."

Police In Plain-Clothes
"Destruction of gardens is another form of vandalism not to be tolerated," the chief added.

"How are you going to apprehend such persons?" he was asked.

"Oh, that isn't such a difficult task as one would think. For instance, I already have assigned some police to plainclothes. They will roam about and it is always possible to make a capture, if not on the night of offense, later he explained.

Ask Defense Contracts For Meadville Plant

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The war department was requested today by the O. P. M. to place defense contracts in Meadville, Pa., because shutdown of a zipper factory there threatens widespread priorities unemployment for that Pennsylvania community.

The O. P. M. certified to war department officials that Meadville faces "severe unemployment" and that defense work "should be placed in the plant of Talon, Inc., manufacturers of slide fasteners, to the fullest practicable extent."

The principal industry at Meadville is the Talon plant. In July 1941, the O. P. M. said, salaries and wages paid to Talon's 5,219 Meadville employees represented approximately 68 per cent of all factory payrolls there.

Talon no longer is able to acquire copper alloys needed for slide fasteners. It was forced to lay off 841 men in August and further cuts in employment are feared.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 15.—The decision of former Gov. George H. Earle not to run again for governor came as a disappointment to many of his friends who had been hoping he would return from his diplomatic post in Sofia, Bulgaria, to make a vindication race. Many Democrats felt that Earle was the only one who could unify the party and prevent a split such as that which wrecked the party in 1938. Earle's decision to remain in Sofia definitely removed him from consideration by slate-makers.

Former Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, now Dauphin county senator, expressed the belief recently that pay increases given state employees by Governor James were insufficient. The governor boosted the salaries from $1020 to $1080 a year, but Taylor said state employees should receive at least $100 a month minimum or $1200 annually. "More than a year ago I said in a senate caucus that the minimum should be $1200 a year," commented Taylor. "It is beyond me how people can live dependently on anything less than that amount, especially in the cases of heads of families."

Expense accounts filed with the state elections bureau show that Judge William M. Parker, Oil City spent $1645 in the September primary to win the Republican nomination for the state supreme court. Judge Charles E. Kenworthy, Ardmore, spent $942 to capture the GOP nomination for the state superior court. On the Democratic side, Judge Michael A. Musmanno, Pittsburgh, spent $1232 to win his party's nomination for superior court. The largest expense account of any appellate court candidate was filed by Earle V. Compton, Harrisburg attorney, who spent $1752 for his unsuccessful bid for the Republican superior court nomination.

Guy K. Bard, former attorney general in the Earle administration, is being talked of in certain political circles as a possible Democratic candidate for governor. He is now serving as a federal judge. Before his appointment as attorney general, succeeding Charles J. Margiotti, he was a member of the Public Utility Commission.

The state government is finding it difficult to obtain skilled labor due to the exigencies of the national defense program. Practically every department reports an inability to fill vacancies. Among the men needed are engineers, draftsmen, experienced stenographers, key-punch operators, typists and various other skilled clerical help. One state official commented that the reason it was so difficult to attract job seekers was because the state "doesn't pay them enough money."

COUNTY WINS

In the suit brought against the county by Charles H. Wellendorf for damages to his property when a road was put through in Neshannock township, the jury returned a verdict for the county which means that Mr. Wellendorf gets no damages. Mr. Wellendorf charged that the county had taken valuable building stone and trees when the road was put through in 1934.

In the case of Faye Brown against Forbie Pitzer for injuries received in an automobile accident, an agreed verdict for the plaintiff of $750 was returned.

Tuesday morning the case of Angelo Stella against the United Shoe Repairing Company of Pittsburgh was taken up. The plaintiff avers that he leases shoe repairing machinery from the defendant and that one of the company's repairmen broke a piece out of a wheel. The plaintiff asked that the wheel be repaired and this was never done it is alleged. Mr. Stella caught his sleeve in the broken part he alleges and was injured. He claims damages.

Another case taken up Tuesday was that of the J. R. Watkins Company against B. J. R. Watkins, Walter S. Houk, William Moran and E. W. Miller. It is alleged the first named defendant purchased goods from the plaintiff company that were never paid for. Britton is not in court as he could not be served with the papers. The other three defendants are bondsmen.

Says Fall Of Moscow Would Not Necessarily Mean Russia's Collapse

(EDITOR'S NOTE: An intimate description of Moscow and authoritative opinion that its possible fall before the German onslaught will not mean that Russia has collapsed is continued in the following executive dispatch from James E. Brown, who served for five years as chief International News Service Correspondent in the Soviet capital. Mr. Brown, who has first-hand knowledge of Moscow and its environs, was told by a military expert that Moscow is "probably the least strategically important big city in Russia.")

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 15.—"Chancellor Hitler soon may stand on the wooded hill where Napoleon stood to watch Moscow burning."

This opinion was expressed to me today by a central European military expert who resigned his commission with his free government in London because of disagreement with the policies of his cabinet.

"But the importance of this admitted catastrophe should not be exaggerated," the expert said.

Not So Important
Moscow is probably the least strategically important big city in Russia.

"Outside the large Stalin automobile factory which produced four-cylinder Porsches called M-1 and modified Lincoln automobile called Ziss, Moscow has few militarily important industries."

This is the first reliable statement pointing out that the possible fall of Moscow does not mean Russian collapse and is not necessarily serious save from the viewpoint of morale.

With only flat country between Smolensk and Moscow, Soviet Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's tanks and artillery stand solely without aid from natural barriers against the German army.

Warsaw had the Vistula river, but the so-called Moscow river is a stream which could be waded at any point. It is certain the capital could not withstand a siege comparable to those endured by Odessa and Leningrad.

As the showplace of Bolshevism, the center of Moscow has modern buildings, the best of which is the Moskva Hotel, walls of which already are cracking—unlike the old, czarist Metropole Hotel, which is holding firm, although the poor ventilation of the main lobby and dining room emphasizes the unwashed condition of some of the comrades.

Small Structures
Outside the center of the city most of the buildings are two-and-three-story wooden structures, incredibly overcrowded, with sometimes four people eating and sleeping in the same room.

These houses occasionally are contrasted with the six-story modern buildings inhabited by government employees.

Anyone experienced in London's air raids would admit most of Moscow could not stand a real incendiary raid such as that which devastated the area around St. Paul's Cathedral. Furthermore, if the Luftwaffe were able to penetrate Moscow's anti-aircraft defenses with loads of high explosives, the slaughter would be terrific, since the limited subway would be unable to accommodate more than 1,000,000 of the city's normal population of 4,000,000.

Although Moscow is not likely to face a long siege, damage to the electrical plant would be an extremely serious blow, since 90 per cent of the city's surface transport is made up of trolley cars and trolley buses, with only a handful of taxis and gasoline-driven buses.

Water supply would be another serious problem in a siege.

Not Likely Sufficient
Much has been written about Moscow's excellent air raid precaution measures, its good anti-aircraft defenses, but it is doubtful if these measures would prove sufficient, considering the highly inflammable buildings, if the enemy were pounding at the gates of the city.

The greatest problem facing the commissars in Moscow will be avoidance of panic. If capture seems imminent. These are few avenues of escape. The best roads lead to Smolensk and Leningrad, whereas the roads leading to the east are extremely poor.

Certainly the railroads leading to Archangel, Stalingrad, Gorky and Kuibyshev would be jammed with government officials as well as the remnants of Timoshenko's armies.

Both sides admit one of history's most terrific battles is being fought for a symbol—Moscow, the capital of world communism, which in the eyes of its followers is a holy city and inspires the same desperate zeal.

Moscow is not a military objective in the true sense of the word, but its capture might mean the end of Bolshevism as conceived by Lenin. The war would thenceforth become increasingly nationalistic and less Bolshevistic.

Never popular with nor mystically regarded by the mass of Russians, Moscow's fall would have less effect on morale than capture of Leningrad, which millions of peasants still consider the capital of Russia.

Girls Make Cotton Balls For Use In Tuberculin Testing

Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society Plans To Continue Campaign

A group of girls from the Senior Girl Reserve club of New Castle Senior High school worked at the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society office Monday evening, making thousands of cotton balls to be used in tuberculin testing.

The balls will be used by the tuberculosis society in continuing their testing work in the schools of the county. This year, the patch test will be used in testing. This is a fairly new device and consists of merely placing an adhesive patch on a person's arm, and the medicine on the patch registers either positive or negative.

Those helping in making the cotton balls were: Jane Brennen, Carol Hawkins, Betty Lou Johnson, Sarah Kegarise, Mildred Jones, Anna Marshall, Betty Marshall, Betty Rowland, June Stoakes, Roberta Street, Marian Wallace and Emma-Jean Wilkinson.

AROUND CITY HALL

Permits granted by the city of New Castle Bureau of Building during September show an estimated cost of $72,380, of which $71,405, was for new buildings. During September three new homes were launched at an estimated cost of $17,750; 11 garages, at a reported cost of $2,755 and three buildings for industrial purposes, at an ascertained cost of $50,000. Remodeling of three homes were reported to have cost $975.

There are more property transfers during 1941 than during the preceding year, according to Neil Williams who is in charge of registering such transfers for the city. Last year he recorded 625 transfers and during 1941, so far, 811 transfers. When such transfers are made at the office of the register and recorder a fee of 25 cents is charged for delivery to the city. After their arrival the deeds are recorded on city records.

There were five cases of typhoid fever reported within the city of New Castle during September, according to the monthly report delivered by Health Officer Dr. W. L. Steen to city council. Three other cases of infantile paralysis and one case of whooping cough were reported. According to a recent health bureau bulletin, the health officer believes the mild wave of infantile paralysis has subsided.

Water and milk are tested often each month by the health officer, Dr. W. L. Steen. During September he examined 28 samples of water taken from the public system and five samples from privately-owned wells and springs. Three samples of water taken from bathing pools also were tested. The health officer was equally as keen to guard the public's health against contaminated milk. He examined 27 samples taken from the milk sold for consumption within the city.

President Gets Message From King Of Greece

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A personal, sealed letter from King George of Greece, now in exile in London, was conveyed to President Roosevelt Tuesday by Stavros Theophanidis, Greek undersecretary of shipping.

Accompanied by Greek Minister

Climon P. Diamantopoulos, the Greek shipping official called at the White House to present the letter from his king and to discuss ways and means of increasing the efficiency of operation of 200 Greek ships now employed in the British transport service. These ships total nearly 1,000,000 tons and are manned by 6,000 Greek sailors.

The minister disclosed that a shipment of foodstuffs, paid for by American-Greek war relief, is leaving Turkey immediately. The German and Italian governments, he said, have consented to the shipment of foodstuffs and medical supplies to the civilian population. Although there had been talk of provisioning a ship in an American port, Diamantopoulos said he thought the present needs could be handled in the Middle East. Theophanidis will remain in this country about two weeks and then go to Canada for conference with dominion shipping officials.

"Above all," the Greek minister said, "tell your people that we are carrying on."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt did not change her name when she married. Her maiden name was Miss Anna Eleanor Roosevelt.

War Games Provided Testing Laboratory

By JOHN BALL

(Special News Correspondent)

CAMP SHELBY, Miss., Oct. 10—

Praise for the soldiers who went to the recent "war" and did their jobs so nobly has come from the higher channels. It was a big test. Many of the experiments were successful and others produced nothing of value for the army.

The manpower in the field was responsible for the evident results, but credit for the less-obvious accomplishments in the maneuvers goes to a large group of civilians working close at hand with the troops. Acting as observers, these men—experts and specialists in their line—produced valuable by-products.

Industry, for instance, has acknowledged the importance of the Louisiana-Texas war games. Accurate knowledge of how its products might withstand the shock of simulated warfare was needed for developing better defense materials. American manufacturers knew that should their products fail to produce the required results, the fighting manpower, so dependent on these necessary implements would be hazarded.

Manufacturers of automotive vehicles, trucks, tanks, motorcycles, "jeeps" and "peeps" producers of aircraft, the pursuit, bombardment and observation planes, the rubber industry, the refiners of gasoline and oil, the producers and distributors of foodstuffs; the armament manufacturers; the transportation systems, rail and other private carriers and the whole of subsidiary industry which makes and supplies the necessities of the armed forces—all were represented by their trained craftsmen.

Performance was the watchword. Industry required a close scrutiny of how its products performed. There were many a million dollars worth of government contracts at stake. These civilian observers traveled right with the fighting forces, getting performance data first-hand. It is certain that numerous reports resulting from continuous observation will effect the further design and manufacture of certain military materiel.

Gasoline refiners were told to correct a standard octane rating for aircraft consumption. A large motorcycle company will bring a new model out shortly with a drive shaft in place of the conventional sprocket-chain driven machine. The transportation systems, particularly the railroads, found some of their energies wasted because of their failure to plan proper co-ordination. Hence a new system of establishing railheads and dispatching points will probably result from this test.

From the great rubber concerns in Ohio were men who were able to tell if their product, which had passed a certain bureau of standards, was actually standing up under terrific usage. New rubber tire designs are pending.

These great war games opened up a large testing laboratory for the industrial genius of this country. Mistakes will be corrected and better products will be made.

Thus, the greatest combination known to modern civilization, science, industry, and the fighting forces, cannot be licked. American has all three.

'No' To Chest Fund 'Unfortunates,' Says Round In Interview

'Can't With Clear Conscience Refuse,' Penn Power Head Declares

LOUIS B. ROUND

No one can rightfully say "No" to a Community Chest solicitor, Louis B. Round, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Power Co., declared this morning.

In a statement he said: "No one in New Castle or vicinity, knowing the purpose and work of the Community Chest agencies, can with a clear conscience refuse to give reasonable help in maintaining the Chest fund. For the Chest, combining as it does the needs of nine social and welfare agencies, represents an essential element in our community life.

"No right-thinking citizen can say 'no' to a Community Chest solicitor. Yet, unfortunately, there are people who do. In addition, however, there are those who feel that they have a reason for denying or reducing their subscription. To those, the best possible plea is that they make a sincere effort to determine whether their reason is a sound one, or merely an excuse; that they speak frankly, courteously, and with an open mind, to their solicitor, and then follow the dictates of their own conscience.

"Through many years association, I can vouch for the worthwhileness of these organizations. The community would suffer tremendously without them. The obvious conclusion is that ever single citizen must do his or her share to prevent the possibility of ever having to do without them."

'Most 1940 Pledges Met,' Chest Says

Percentage of shrinkage in payments on pledges to the 1940 Community Chest drive, conducted a year ago, was "less than ever before in the history of the chest," Mrs. Winifred Cooney, executive director, disclosed this morning. Figures were not given.

She said the final month's checks for the 1940-41 year was being mailed out today to the nine welfare and character-building agencies.

The current drive asks $65,000 for the agencies in the year ahead. Over $28,000 had been raised this morning.

Will Probe Charge That State Is Being Defrauded

Open Hearings At Harrisburg

State Legislative Committee To Delve Into Unemployment Compensation Fraud

FRAUDULENT CLAIMS CHARGE IS FACTOR

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Oct. 15.—A legislative committee will open an investigation today to determine whether the state is being defrauded of "vast sums of money" through the payment of fraudulent claims from the $180,000,000 unemployment compensation fund.

A five-member house and senate sub-committee of the joint state government commission will call Deputy Attorney General David R. Perry as its first witness, with others expected to be called later.

The committee, headed by Sen. John H. Dent (D) Westmoreland, desired to delve into a report filed by the attorney general last April "concerning charges of fraudulent claims in the unemployment compensation fund." The jobless fund has been in operation since February 1938 dispensing insurance to unemployed workers.

Erroneous Statements
According to Paul C. Moomaw, director of the joint state government commission, Perry in his report stated that "vast sums of money" were being lost from the fund through claims paid on the basis of erroneous statements made by claimants.

Perry further stated that "no ac-quate or practical procedure is being followed" to recover the money. He cited the need for increased investigations and pointed to a 25 per cent reduction by the U. S. social security board in the personnel of its legal staff as having hampered this. The fund's administrative expenses are underwritten by the federal government.

Perry said the investigation and "spot-checking" of compensation claims is now in the hands of an administrative staff headed by William E. Collier, associate director of unemployment compensation while Perry's legal unit now concerns itself entirely with prosecutions.

Partial Check
As an indication of the "vast sums" being lost by the state, Perry cited in his report a partial check made by his staff of 21 selected employers. This check revealed that 965 irregular claims were filed by employees, resulting in 3,325 payments representing approximately $34,000 in benefits.

There are 145,000 employees in Pennsylvania who contribute to the fund, stated the Perry report, and in 1940 the fund paid out $44,260,798 to 500,000 claimants.

"It would appear plain," said Moomaw, "that a procedure must be found by which these losses can be kept to a minimum."

Moomaw said the social security board at Washington had been advised of the meeting and an invitation extended to have a representative present. He was subsequently advised, he added, that the invitation had been referred by the board to William Bardsley, its regional representative at Philadelphia.

Shoots His Son Then Suicides

ERIE, Pa.—An unemployed Erie painter, faced with an eviction from his home for failure to pay rent, shot and killed his 24-year-old son Tuesday while the son slept and then took his own life. Police Chief George Christoph reported.

Christoph said that Edwin Blosser, 60, killed his son, Glenn, and himself after the two men and Mrs. Blosser, the wife and mother, had discussed a plan to take their own lives because of poor economic conditions.

Mrs. Blosser said the family had received an eviction notice today but had been promised a place to live by a public charity organization. She related that the son had gone to bed for a nap after the family discussion resulted in no decision. The police chief quoted the woman as saying that an hour later the father took a revolver and shot the young man between the eyes as he slept, then went into the kitchen and shot himself through the temple. His body was found on the kitchen floor.

NEW BRIDGE AT NIAGARA FALLS TO BE OPENED SOON

(International News Service)
NIAGARA FALLS.—The Rainbow bridge, now nearing completion over the Niagara river at Niagara Falls, will be opened to traffic during the week of October 19th according to T. B. McQuesten, chairman of the Niagara Falls bridge commission and also Ontario's minister of highways.

This bridge, built at a cost of $3,500,000 was started May 16, 1940 and is built under the authority of the Niagara Falls bridge commission, a quasi-public body created by a joint resolution of the congress of the United States and by an order-in-council of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.

The Rainbow bridge replaces the Falls View bridge and is about one hundred yards north of the point where the latter structure collapsed under ice pressure in January 1938.

New Castle Hospital Shares Chest Funds

NEW CASTLE HOSPITAL

It is 3 o'clock in the morning, the hour of dread and mishap. The sisters and nurses on night duty hear the siren as the ambulance dashes around to the emergency entrance of the hospital. What kind of a patient is it? An accident? No. It is a maternity patient. The doctor has been working with her at home, and he has found it imperative for her to come to the hospital, if he expects either the mother or baby to live.

Immediately an attitude of expectancy pervades the maternity department. The staff doctor is called, and he appears so shortly thereafter, that one wonders—how he managed it. The nurse rush to and fro with light but rapid steps, intent on the preparations necessary for the welfare and comfort of the patient. Finally a lovely baby girl arrives on the scene. But she is cyanotic and does not breathe well. Without delay, the resuscitator is brought into action and is used until the baby breathes naturally.

Since the baby is premature, she is placed in the incubator, in order to give her a better lease on life. While the little lady is being cared for, the mother has not been neglected. She has been taken to her room and watched carefully, so there will be no danger for her. Now the personnel of the obstetrical department is happy, because they feel that two lives have been saved.

Seven o'clock, the day staff reports for duty. Hardly have they begun their work when a call is received by the admitting office—"Sister, this is Doctor — I am sending by ambulance Mrs. — who is unconscious." He then states the facts of the case. The staff doctor, upon being consulted, gives his orders to the sister in charge of the floor to which the patient is being assigned. When Mrs. — arrives, she is immediately put to bed, given oxygen by means of the tent or nasal apparatus; intravenous injection is all ready for the doctor's administration; the laboratory technician visits the patient, and in a short time is at work on various diagnostic tests; the pharmacy is called upon for special medication, and it is only by having available at the New Castle hospital many and diverse pieces of equipment, that the life of this person is saved.

Once more the hospital routine is resumed, only again to be broken. For about this time, in the front door comes a gentleman, carrying in his arms a little child, who has without thinking, crossed the street as his car was approaching. She is bleeding from cuts on the forehead, one leg hangs limp, and she is in a state of shock. The emergency department is called upon for first aid and the child is treated for shock. Later on the X-ray department is requested to bring their mobile unit to bedside, by means of which it is found necessary to do an immediate "trephining" operation. Gladly do the other doctors give up their scheduled time in the operating room to the staff doctors for emergency work, and all help is pressed into service—for is not a life at stake!

At last, it is time for the nurses' lunch. From 11:30 to 12:30 we see the nurses hurrying to and from the dining-room. One group has just arrived at the elevator to return to their duty, when they notice a staff doctor coming in with a baby in his arms. He had been called to the home and found the baby in a dying condition due to malnutrition. One of the nurses being on duty on the floor, to which the baby would be assigned, immediately relieves the doctor of his precious bundle, and together they proceed to the children's ward, after the doctor has reported to the admitting office. A special formula is prepared at once, and with much painstaking care and kindness the frail life is guarded until its happy parents are permitted to take it home.

Afternoon and evening bring their frequent emergency cases, which are given first aid and care, thus bringing to a close one day's activities in the New Castle hospital.

In addition to all emergency service, during the year of 1940-1941, 9,238 indigent days were given by the New Castle hospital to the residents of New Castle and suburban territories.

Do your best—give to the Community Chest!

Three Are Killed In Warren Crash

WARREN, Pa.—Three persons, including an 18-month-old boy and his father, were killed on Tuesday, and two others injured critically in a collision of a Pennsylvania railroad local freight and an automobile on a rural crossing near Pittsfield, 14 miles west of Warren.

The dead, all of Broken Straw township, Warren county, were identified as Catherine Tchonchuk, 20; Julius Flow, 25, and his son, John.

Mrs. Anna Flow, 23, and another son, Julius, Jr., 2½, were taken to a Warren hospital in critical condition.

Coroner Ed Lowrey said the accident occurred during a heavy shower and that the view of the crossing is obscured by a steep "hump" in the road ascending to the tracks.

Bridge Work Is Progressing Here

Over Half Of Old Wooden Floor Has Now Been Removed From Span

Work of rebuilding the East Cherry street bridge over the Shenango river is progressing nicely at the present time.

The workmen have removed more than half of the old wooden flooring on the structure at the present time and have started to raise the center of the bridge by jacking up the span.

The flooring that is being removed from the bridge appears to be in rather good condition and much of it is being saved for future use.

Scabies is an infectious, contagious disease of the skin.

Scabies infests the high and low, rich and poor, young and old.

It is more likely to infest the unhygienic than the cleanly.

The itch mite burrows tiny tunnels in the superficial layers of the skin.

Here the female lays her eggs and then dies.

Intense itching is a constant characteristic of scabies.

Scabies can and should be easily and speedily cured.

Proper local medication is indicated, but not overmedication.

Burglaries In Three South Side Places Solved, Criswell Reports

Four boys, ranging in age from 14 to 16, were apprehended Monday, according to City Detective Chief Ralph A. Criswell and reportedly admitted robbing three business places, one of which was "tapped" twice. Three of the boys are out on bail and the other is confined in the County Detention Home. All are charged with burglary.

The boys confessed, the detectives' chief said with robbing the Supreme Radio shop, 107 East Long avenue, Harold's Bicycle shop, 19 West Long avenue and twice burglarizing the Marchelietta Electric shop, 111 East Long avenue. Various articles taken were recovered and are at detective headquarters.

The detectives chief also stated that an investigation was being conducted in an effort to apprehend the person or persons who burglarized the Mahoning cafe, Liberty street, of a considerable amount of liquor, cigarettes, stogies and $49.00 in cash.

Traffic police also received a report that the automobile owned by Edward Tomski, which allegedly was stolen Monday night from 506 East Washington street, was recovered by Tomski, Tuesday, in South Croton avenue.

'GNCA WILL PUSH' ASSOCIATION SAYS

Watching Where It Can Help Better City, But Shuns Star Role

The Greater New Castle Association wants to be "the sturdy pusher engine, not the head locomotive" in New Castle civic affairs, the association stressed today.

After a two-hour session of its new public relations committee last night, the GNCA announced.

"The Greater New Castle Association wants to stand ready to help all civic bodies in the progressive things they are doing. It wants to submerge its identity to that of the other organizations, but yet always on the job to assist where it can. In short, it wants to be the 'clearing house' in all community affairs—and it wants to be a good one."

Parade, convention, highway improvement, civic club co-operation and other angles touching directly upon GNCA public relations were discussed last night.

NEW CASTLE HIGH AWAITS WASHINGTON ELEVEN

Class AA Battle Friday Will Draw Fans To Stadium

New Castle Seeks To Ring Up Seventh Straight Win Of 1941 Season

Washington Will Have Well Balanced Team, Zubkowski Paron Ailing

VICTORIOUS in nine straight games over that many years, an undefeated New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football machine will put forth every effort on Friday night under the lights of Taggart Stadium to make it ten in a row over the Washington "Little Presidents".

It was back in 1931 and incidentally at the stadium that Washington high came here with a great team coached by Hank Day (now at Farrell) and applied a 27 to 0 white-washing on the Bridenbaughs.

Six Straight Wins New Castle has rolled up six straight wins so far this year—Grove City, Butler, Beaver Falls, Sharon, Farrell and McKeesport—and hope earnestly to add the Washington eleven to the list late Friday evening. Also New Castle has won three important Class AA games—Butler, Beaver Falls and McKeesport. They hope to make it four Class AA victories on Friday.

The locals came out of the tough battle at McKeesport in not too good shape. Many of the boys are bruised up, but nothing serious. It is hoped that big "Train" Zubkowski, the left end will be in shape to start the Washington game. He is bothered with a bad shoulder and side, and was shaken up somewhat at McKeesport, after catching an important pass setting up a New Castle touchdown. Paron is not in any too good shape either.

The Washington Well Balanced team coached by William "Bill" Amos former all-American at W. & J. will be well balanced. Not too big but of uniform size. Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh of the "Red Hurricanes" was an interested spectator last Thursday evening as the Washington boys ran over a Brentwood High eleven 78 to 6. The local mentor knows what his team is in store for if they do not play the kind of a game that they are capable of.

Washington High the week previous to the "track-meet" with Brentwood, trounced a very fine Wilkesburg High, heretofore unbeaten team, 28 to 0. This should indicate a fine offense.

Brush Up On Timing New Castle is undergoing this week a brushing up on the timing of various plays and also on the blocking. The tackling was a little weak in the McKeesport game, and this also is being looked into.

Pass defense is another item on the Bridenbaugh "must list" for this week. Washington can be relied upon to throw a host of passes here. They always have had a dangerous passing attack. Of course New Castle and Bobby Lee are not such bad shakes at this department also, as evidenced by the fine work in the recent win over the McKeesport Tigers.

Expect Big Crowd

In the event of a nice night the Taggart stadium stands will no doubt be well filled. Washington will send several hundred here for the game. More than 1,000 tickets have been sent to the Washington county seat by Ticket Manager Robert Mills.

Interest in New Castle's fourth Class AA struggle is very keen here. If New Castle gets Washington in the "bag" it looks as if the sons of Pa' New may get into the W. P. I. A. L. Class AA championship playoffs, but there is Washington and Scott High of North Braddock to contend with yet—both quite some punkins" in the scholastic football world.

TRAVEL BY AIR

FORT WORTH—Texas Christian football teams have traveled 9,818 yards by passing and 11,254 by running, since "Dutch" Meyer took over the coaching reins.

AUBURN WINS 208 GAMES Exclusive of 1941 wins, Auburn's varsity grid teams have snatched 208 victories out of 370 conflicts. The 49-year-old record embraces 29 ties and only 133 defeats.

DIMAGGIO OR WILLIAMS Either Joe DiMaggio of the Yanks or Ted Williams of the Red Sox may win American League's most valuable player award.

Bridenbaugh Has Envious Record As Grid Coach

Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh Is In His 20th Season As New Castle Mentor

TWO TITLES HAVE COME TO LOCALS

Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh of New Castle High School is in his 20th year as mentor at the North Hill institution and over the span of years has compiled a most enviable record. It is believed that the record of Phil Bridenbaugh could not be topped by any other high school coach in Pennsylvania.

Since Bridenbaugh took over here in the spring of 1922 his teams have won two Class AA championships and co-championed along with Jeannette and McKeesport in another. New Castle over the span of years has won 173 games and dropped but 29, with 12 being ties.

Great Team In 1933 New Castle's best year was in 1933 when the locals were the undisputed Class AA W. P. I. A. L. champions, with 13 victories and no defeats. Walter "Powerhouse" Kominic was captain of that great team and others included: the Shelligs, Alec and Fred, Frank "Tarzan" Crisci, Chuck Fleming, Joe Howley, Jack Hitchens, Chuck James, Whitey Nickum, Raskowski, Ridley, Seeth, Harry Toscano, and others.

It was in 1933 that New Castle met Canton McKinley in a spring game and defeated them 14 to 13, following a previous spring game that saw New Castle defeating Campbell Memorial 20 to 0.

Turns Out Many Stars Bridenbaugh since coming here has turned out such well known college stars as Alex Fox, Alex Shellig, Walt Raskowski and Paul Reider at Pitt; Bob McNeill at Muskingum; Benny Ciccone and DeCarbo at Duquesne; Ralph Day at Grove City; Christman at Purdue; Wal Kominic at State College and Akron University; Frank "Tarzan" Crisci at Western Reserve, and others.

Incidentally since Bridenbaugh began here his teams over the long span of years have not lost at any time more than four games in any one year, the last time that occurred was back in 1937. No team outside of Massillon and Washington has beaten New Castle more than twice since Bridenbaugh has been here.

Incidentally as long as we are incidentally, it was a Phil Bridenbaugh team back in 1937 that put a crimp on Mister Paul Brown and his super-Massillon High Tigers 7 to 0 at Massillon, this being the only defeat for the Massillon team out of 80 played. Captain of that memorable team was Eddie Sovesky, and the team lineup included: Blackie Nocera, Robert McNeill, Al Picutti, Dutch Undergraff, Dombroski, Socks Rousseau, Tom Carey, Joe Gendler, Ray Micalotti, Lindy Lauro, Eddie Sowinski, John Kulnis and Jim Howley among others.

Geneva Will Play Titans Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILLINGMONT, Oct. 15.—Discovering a new quarterback star in little Joe Mastro, former Jeanette football and cage star, Coach Grover Washbaugh will probably start the 155-pound Westminster Titan back in this Saturday's game against Geneva, in New Willingmont.

Against Hiram last Saturday Mastro threw a 35-yard touchdown pass to Titan End Jim Wilson, and later ran the ball for a 75-yard cut-back play around his right end, only to have the play called back on a Titan offside penalty.

If Mastro starts at quarter for Westminster, Captain Pete Evanoff will be shifted to the left half position. Dick Newton, Ellwood Ragle, Vandergrift, fullback, will make up the backfield quarter. Tom Murphy, Ellwood City fullback, is also a possible starter.

In the line, Coach Washbaugh will put Jim "Bud" Wilson, last year's varsity center, in the right guard hole let vacant when "Skip" Carlson, McKeesport linesman, suddenly developed a case of acute appendicitis.

Other starting linemen will be Hamilton and Joe Demoise, ends; Zech and Reed, tackles; Wilson and Hudson, guards, and Glass, center.

On paper Westminster and Geneva look about even. The Covenanters have two 0-0 tie games, with Youngstown and W. and J., and a 14-7 win over Grove City, and a 28-0 shellacking by West Virginia Wesleyan.

Westminster has two victories, over Carnegie Tech, 19-13, and over Hiram, 20-0, and a 6-0 loss at Slippery Rock on a pass interception.

The Geneva-Westminster football competition is one of the oldest in western Pennsylvania, beginning back in 1891 when a veteran Geneva team defeated Westminster, 42-0. During the past 10 years the Titans have won only one in 10 games from the Covenanters, who piled up 176 points to 12 for the Blue and White.

Guests at the game will be over 250 members of the Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity, organized in 1882, and one of the oldest local groups in America.

Sportsmen Meet Tuesday Evening

Game Warden Coen Urges Hunters To Use State Game Land In County

Lawrence County Sportsmen's association members heard an instructive talk delivered by Frank "Jewie" Coen, game warden, during their monthly meeting in the Veterans of Foreign War hall, East Washington street, on Tuesday night.

Coen urged hunters to use state game land as much as possible. He stressed the fact that hunting is exceedingly good on these tracts of land. The only restriction centers around a few acres where game is preserved, Coen pointed out.

Lawrence county's five state game plots will be toured next Sunday afternoon starting at 1:30 o'clock. Sportsmen interested in viewing the hunting grounds are asked to meet at Central Firemen Department. The caravan will leave from that point, Coen said.

Emmett Gillaspie, a local teacher, and about 175 members of the Junior Sportsmen's club were guests. Gillaspie asked the senior group to cooperate with the youthful club. Gillaspie organized and supervises the group.

Educational movies were enjoyed during the event. President Andrew Dodds, who presided, announced that the next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, November 18.

PORTLAND FOR SALE Rumor is afloat the Portland club of the Pacific coast baseball league is for sale.

Church Managers To Meet Tonight

The first meeting of the year for the New Castle church basketball managers will be held at the "Y" tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The following churches are asked to send accredited representatives to the session: First Baptist, St. Vitus, St. Mary's, First Presbyterian, Second U. P., Mahoning Methodists, Croton Methodists, Central Presbyterians, Epworth and St. George Greek Orthodox.

All managers or representatives at the meeting must have a letter from their pastor authorizing their presence at the meeting.

Ecclesian Club Meets Thursday

The Ecclesian duckpin bowling league will get under way at 9 o'clock on Thursday evening at the Croton avenue alleys.

There are six teams in the league as follows: Notre Dame, St. Vincents, Georgetown, Duquesne, Holy Cross and Fordham.

The following committee has been instrumental in getting the 1941-42 league started: Jimmy Barlett, Victor Ross, Dave Vogan and Joe Factor.

ARCHERY TEACHER SYRACUSE—Dick Weber, Syracuse guard, spent the summer vacation teaching archery at Camp Lincoln in Minnesota. Weber is a former national junior archery champion.

Middle west and northern state authorities report that game is plentiful this year, more so than in other seasons.

Worsted-lex

The Suit for Gentlemen

When we talk about Worsted-lex at $40 — we mean that large group of Americans — mostly business men — who appreciate restraint in styling — who understand the elegance of simplicity — and the many little refinements that have always characterized this suit.

In other words, the Worsted-lex tradition at $40 — is a tradition of appearance, of good grooming. That is what thousands of men have come to expect when they pay $40 for a Worsted-lex Suit.

And that is what they get!

Gridders Ignore Rain; Drill For Coming Tiffs

County Elevens Play Five
Games On Local Fields
This Week-End

SHENANGO-MARS CLASH CANCELED

Unmindful of yesterday's rain which converted fields into quagmires, Lawrence county football teams labored like Trojans as they prepared for five strong opponents to be played this week.

Because the five battles will be staged on county fields, the local pigskin program reaches one of its high points. The frays will undoubtedly attract the largest galleries of the season.

Two triumphs away from a perfect class AA WPIAL record and five victories short of an unbeaten and untied mark, New Castle high's harvest is concentrating on Friday night's league tussle with Washington high on Taggart field.

Washington's incredible improvement in the past few weeks has heightened the visitors' chances of grabbing a victory. The "Canes" are working time and a half for the approaching battle. The game starts at 8 o'clock.

Titans At Home
Westminster college followers will get their first glimpse of the Titans at home on Saturday afternoon when the Washabughmen swap football wits with Geneva college.

Westminster, conqueror of Carnegie Tech and Hiram, feels confident of bowing over the neighboring foe. The Titans rang up a 6-0 nod over Geneva in 1940.

Ellwood City high's undefeated steam roller tackles one of the toughest foes of the season on Friday night when the Wolverines clash with Midland high. The game will be played on Lincoln field, Ellwood City. To date, Ellwood has won four victories out of the five tiffs, the lone black mark being a tie posted by Butler high.

Union Township high is rounding into condition for Friday afternoon's clash with Zellenople high on Union field. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock. With Jaskolka back in shape, the Scotland Lancers' new impeding game from an optimistic standpoint. Zellenople boasts of another powerhouse.

Sharpsburg-Bessemer
At Bessemer field Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Bessemer's improving eleven faces Sharpsburg high. In disposing of Union, the red and black had had a disavowed unexpected strength. Bessemer came out of the Union game in good physical shape and will be at full strength for its third game.

Announcement was made today that the Shenango-Mars game, booked for Shenango high field on Friday afternoon, has been postponed indefinitely. Unable to rectify a mixup in dates, school officials decided to cancel the fray. There is a remote possibility that the clash may be played later in the season.

Report is current heavyweight champion Joe Louis may enlist in the army before he is drafted.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis went through his preliminary examination for the army in Chicago Tuesday, and doctors agreed unofficially that the "Brown Bomber" was acceptable for the life of a soldier. Final decision of his classification under the SSA must await the results of chemical tests but examining physicians found the only imperfection a slight cold which Louis said he acquired while giving a recent exhibition in Savannah, Ga. He weighed 215 1/2.

Raccoon season is in and tonight the folk living in the rural section will hear the baying of hounds.

Sammy Secrest, former amateur star of The Arena, will fight a return battle with Maxie Berger in Cleveland next Monday night when Lem Franklin and Mountain Abe Simon clash. Secrest beat the Toronto welterweight in the first bout. Jimmy Reeves, Cleveland lightweight, who drew the "nod" while lying on his back against the Jewish fighter, Jake La Motta, will draw La Motta also in a return bout. Al Sayers, another Arena amateur, will take on Harry Teaney of Cleveland. Incidentally, it might be said that several amateurs who fought in The Arena are making headway in the professional ranks. Mike Ruffa, Tommy Yarosz and Ernie Pelai are also pros now.

Indiana Teachers eleven is out in front of the State Teachers college grid race in number of points. They have scored 59 points in two games compared to 32 for Shippensburg. However, 19 points have been chalked against Indiana but none have been scored against Shippensburg. Slippery Rock is one game down and will play Indiana, Saturday.

Sturdevant Head Of Revolver Club

Denny Sturdevant will serve as president of the Sportsman's Revolver club for the ensuing year, his election having taken place at the last regular meeting of the club, at the Cathedral range.

The club will hold its weekly shoot and a business meeting to-night at the range at 7:30 o'clock. There are several important business matters to be brought up.

Other officers elected along with Mr. Sturdevant are: vice president, Charles "Chuck" Phipps; secretary, Charles H. Schweinsberg; treasurer, Dr. Feine; range officer, Earl Dufford; supply officer, Howard Schweinsberg.

Anyone desiring a match with the local revolver club can arrange one by getting in touch with Secretary Schweinsberg.

Carlson Is Lost To Titan Team

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 15.—Scovel "Skip" Carlson, McKeesport, varsity guard on the Westminster Titan eleven, will be out of the game for the remainder of the football season, following an operation for acute appendicitis last week-end.

Carlson's dog "Flash," a Dalmatian, has been named mascot for the Titan team. The dog constantly accompanies the team on road trips.

Westminster's victory over Hiram Saturday, 20-0, was a tribute from Carlson's Titan eleven to their sick teammate.

LIKES NEW RULING
PHILADELPHIA—Temple's Ray Morrison likes the new unlimited substitution rule. The mentor disagrees with the belief that the new ruling adds extra time to the game. Morrison's teams now average about 90 subs per clash.

STORER STAR-STUDDED
DURHAM—Football authorities rank Moffat Storer Duke back, as one of the most capable performers in the nation. The ball totter is well fortified with grid knowledge.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

What's new in sports today?—

Those brave gents who figure out the Glass AA WPIAL football championship today disclose that New Castle and Altoona are the marshals of the parade this far. If the two elevens continue their present gait on the gridiron, the "Hurricane" and the lads from the big curve belt may face each other across the chain links for the title—provided the august boards of both institutions smile and render a nod.

Should New Castle receive the invitation to participate in the classic, which will probably be staged in Pitt stadium, the school's athletic council will have an important say. We've got a strong hunch that the answer will be an affirmative one. But, Washington and Scott of Brad dock are in a position to crush the title ambitions of the Bradenbaughmen. Until then, fingers crossed.

Principal F. L. Orth today announced that New Castle high will probably participate in the coming PIAA cross state physical fitness race, starting on Friday, October 31. The scholastic cinder burners leave Erie and wind up the first day's trek in Meadville. New Castle is stop No. 2.

After the New York Yankees nailed the World Series championship, Manager Joe McCarthy had 16 teeth pulled. Leo Durocher, Brooklyn's recalcitrant manager, hasn't autographed a Dodger contract as yet. He wasn't even offered the official document before leaving for his St. Louis home.

There is always a first time dept.: North Carolina scored on Fordham for the first time in three years last Saturday. In the Texas-Oklahoma game, the game was delayed for a few minutes when the switchboard went flat. A new one, which, fortunately was kept in reserve, was immediately put into use and the game went on.

Les Leasure To Box In Youngstown Ring

Jefferson A. C. Making Ready
For Fistic Whirls Here
October 29

Les Leasure, local middleweight, will be one of the several local amateur fighters who will box Thursday night in Youngstown.

Russell Baxter was scheduled to appear because of a laceration on his chin, sustained in a recent Arena bout, called the bout off.

Meanwhile, the Jefferson A. C. is forging plans for another bang-up card here October 29.

Among the newcomers will be Benny Newkirk, Frankie Moran, the Leasures, probably Russell Baxter and Billy Reale will appear.

Two Phillies To Undergo Operations

(International News Service)
ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 15.—Two members of the National League Phillies were scheduled to undergo operations at Sacred Heart hospital, Allentown, today.

They were Johnny Podajny, of Chester, who was to have an appendectomy, and outfielder Stan Benjamin, of Framingham, Mass., who was sent here for a hernia operation.

Church Bowlers Meet Thursday

The New Castle church duckpin league will have its second session of the 1941-42 season at the Nesha-nock alleys on Thursday evening at 9 o'clock.

The league started last Thursday night with the First Presbyterian-Third U. P. combined teams and the St. Marys team leading the league with three wins and no losses.

The schedule for Thursday night: Highland vs. Temple. Isreal-St. Johns; First Christians-Epworth vs. First Presbyterians-Third U. P.; St. Marys vs. Trinity-St. Andrews; First Baptist vs. First U. P.

Petrella Scores 24 Of 27 Winning Points

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 15.—In less than 45 minutes of play against Bucknell, Pepper Petrella, Penn State back scored as many points as he scored in eight games for the Nittany Lions last season. He scored 24 of 27 winning points. The 160-pound "pepper pot" from Downingtown, Pa., crossed the goal line four times Saturday to mark up 24 of the Lions' 27 points.

PERENNIAL DOG FIGHT
NEW YORK—National League pennant fights have been known to be almighty battles all the way down the line. In 25 years the championship has been decided before the final week of action on only nine different occasions.

Badminton Popular On Program Of 'Y'

All of the men's division classes are now organized and in full swing at the Y. M. C. A. There are now operating classes in badminton, volleyball, calisthenics, informal wrestling, informal boxing and informal swimming at weekly periods.

Badminton classes are scheduled on Tuesday and Thursday at 5:15 p.m. Volleyball is scheduled for business men on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at noon and also at 5 on the same days. Young men have volleyball periods Tuesday and Thursday at 7:15. Senior calisthenic periods are scheduled at 8:15 on Tuesday and Thursday. Seniors are invited to join in these activities and make the most of their membership in the "Y."

Zivic-Robinson Bout Arranged

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Fritzie Zivic, who lost the world's welterweight title to Red Cochrane last July, today was scheduled to replace the champion on his scheduled 10-rounder with Ray Robinson at Madison Square Garden Oct. 31.

Cochrane refused to go through with the scheduled bout unless the New York State Athletic commission reinstated his manager, Willie Gilzenberg, who was suspended for counseling his fighter to hold off in a match with Lew Jenkins.

HE'S STANFORD FLASH
PALO ALTO—Pete Knetlovic, one of Stanford's flashes, is a fleet half-back who ranks with the most elusive ball carriers in the nation. Opposing gridgers say Pete's a step too fast.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The stock market continued its decline today, reaching a new low on the move and the lowest levels since early in June. Trading was dull.

After the invocation offered by Rev. W. E. Munter, group singing was led by Paul Winter with music for the singing and throughout the dinner being provided by Harry Hammond and Ben Shulansky.

Women of the church served a delectable dinner at long tables attractively decorated with fall flowers and patriotic suggestions.

Charles W. Carbeau, president of the Lawrence County Boy Scout Council, was the toastmaster and the program began with the introduction of Burgess William McGlinchey who commended "The Boys in Blue—Today's Policemen" Sheriff Cy Ingham said that Ellwood should be proud of their police chief and citizens, and District Attorney John Lamoree emphasized that every law abiding citizen owes his respect to those being honored.

Simple bravery is a great quality, like a breath of spring, and reminiscent of the days when "men were men," it was stressed by W. Walter Braham, present judge of Lawrence County.

Attorney Raymond W. Humphrey, the police department solicitor, outlined the old axiom that individuals who fail to abide by the laws must pay. He then introduced all members of the local police department, with the exception of desk men, W. C. Morrison and Colin Clarke, who were unable to attend. Members of the state police patrolled the town during the dinner to enable all of the citizens to attend.

L. G. Brown, cashier of the First National Bank, Harrisville, which the bandit apprehended here had robbed, described the hold-up as it occurred in the bank.

Receiving a great ovation, Chief of Police Ernest R. Hartman was presented to the group. A resume of his talk can be found in another column of this paper.

Patrolman Edward Shaffer, citizens James Pasta and Angelo DeCarbo, knowledge introductions after which Mrs. Laura Kash gave vivid descriptions of the events which took place at Belton when the bandits wrecked their car and were finally captured.

F. B. I. Speaker
James E. Thornton, district agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, of Pittsburgh was the principal speaker of the evening and he gave a very thoughtful talk on the complexities of law enforcement agencies. This dinner is more than a testimonial, it is a recognition of law-enforcement as a profession, the speaker began. Police officers give 24 hours service and their equipment should be as good as that they have to face. Since 1934 12 F.B.I. agents have been killed and 120 country cannot afford to lose men of this type. He urged that the group attending back a movement to send a police officer to an F.B.I. training school, where the new methods of combating criminals are expertly taught. The great responsibilities of juvenile cases is one of the biggest problems facing law enforcement bodies today.

The old methods of detection, apprehension, punishment are outmoded. Today's officers must find out the people who are pointing out the defects of the government and contrasting them with every good point of Hitler. They will always find them among impressionable young people. It is the duty of the officers to focus the attention of young people on oneism, Americanism.

There are many paid spies in America, Mr. Thornton stated. Some are here of their own free will, some from pre-ordained impulses, many are being paid, they all must be ferreted out. The same methods are being used here to disintegrate the American democracy as were used in the fall of France, and to eliminate those methods is the challenge of law enforcement today, he concluded.

Gifts Presented
W. F. Kegel presented gifts to the five guests of honor with Mr. Hartman's token being a stainless steel plaque.

Special guests introduced during the program by R. J. Schill, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, were: Ralph Ramsey, Orville Potter, Leroy Donaldson, B. N. Hanlon, J. Finney, Clyde Badger of New Castle, Captain Moon, who was police chief of Ellwood City in 1901, Harold Seidel, local member of the police commission, W. C. Kegel of this city.

Representing the Harrisville group attending were: H. W. Cooper, customer who was held up outside the bank; Paul McKee, who looked in the door and gave the alarm; C. A. Coaklin, who identified the car; H. W. Shull, teller; H. E. McBride, assistant cashier; Sarah Sutherland, bookkeeper; Clair Ginn, customer, and Arthur Brenneman.

Messages of regret were read from Assemblyman George T. Weingartner; Ralph H. Davis, Red Cross chapter chairman, and E. E. Moore, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, who is vacationing at White Sulphur Springs, Va.

To Present Rotary Play Next Wednesday
ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—One week from tonight, Wednesday, October 22, at the Lincoln high school auditorium at 8:30 o'clock the Ellwood City Rotary club will present their fifth annual home talent play.

"Room Service," a Broadway play success, later made into a movie for the Marx brothers, is the play that has been chosen for this year's presentation.

It is the story of a shoe-string producer who has got hold of a play script and collected his actors. The plot centers about finding a backer for the play and keeping the cast from being evicted from the hotel. From beginning to end the play is complete with high-grade comedy and is one that all play lovers will want to witness.

A prominent cast of local people will take part in the production under the direction of Mrs. J. Ellis Bell and Miss Elizabeth McKnight.

I also wish at this time to recognize Officer Shaffer and Mr. Pasta, and to congratulate them on their splendid performance in writing finish to another crime that did not pay.

You may rest assured that the police department of Ellwood City is anxious to serve you and interested in making your city the safest from the standpoint of traffic and crime of any city in western Pennsylvania.

We regret the loss of life in the performance of our duties, for after all, the function of a police department is to preserve life, not to destroy. On the other hand, the duty of the police department to protect the citizens of a community against those who would violate the laws of the land. Let me say in closing, that being a police officer is not an easy task and like all public offices, has its critics and disagreeable moments.

Resume Of Hartman's Testimonial Response
Police Chief Pays Tribute To Harold Pierce, Public Service Teacher
ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Chief Ernest R. Hartman's response to a testimonial tribute here last night follows:

Every year hundreds of courageous police officers, in carrying out their duties to protect society against vicious criminals, face the blazing guns of these violators of the law. Last year over 400 officers lost their lives in attempting to arrest criminals.

It is fitting that we pay our respect to such officers and citizens and I would like to suggest that we all stand for one minute and bow our heads in memory of those officers who

Ample Supply Of Turkey Seen

Indications Point To Enough To Fill Needs For Thanksgiving

CHEESE HOLDINGS ARE GREATEST EVER

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 15.—Indications are that there will be ample turkey to grace the festive board in Pennsylvania homes on Thanksgiving Day.

According to department of agriculture reports, 997,000 turkeys were raised in the Keystone state this year which is an eight per cent increase above last year's figures. Prices received by farmers for the birds averaged about two cents a pound more than in 1940.

And the turkeys will probably carry more meat this year as farmers report a growing popularity of the broad-breasted type. In addition there are 4,193,000 pounds of turkey held in cold storage in the middle Atlantic states.

An ample supply of vegetables and fruits also is assured. Pennsylvanians this winter despite the severe damage dealt the crops by drought.

Cold storage reports received by the agriculture department from Washington reveal that holdings of all varieties of frozen fruits on hand Sept. 1 totaled 211,647,000 pounds and stocks of frozen vegetables grossed 83,480,000 pounds.

American cheese holdings were 151,737,000 pounds, the greatest reported at any time on record. Creamery butter stocks amounted to 200,539,000 pounds and stocks of all frozen and cured meats totaled 625,881,000 pounds.

The department also revealed that 2,500,000 bushels of apples grown in the state last year were used by state canning factories, apple juice plants and cider mills. According to the department, the state now occupies a leading position among apple growing states, both as to value and quality of processed and canned apples.

One proof of insanity is the inability to cooperate. It might do our souls good to meditate on that.
